MENTOR-MENTEE SYSTEM

Preamble

St. Ann's College for Women is committed to promoting holistic student development through a structured Mentor-Mentee System and Student Induction Programme that supports academic excellence, emotional well-being, discipline, skill development, and career readiness.

The institution believes that effective mentoring and orientation are essential for helping students adapt to higher education, build confidence, strengthen teacher-student relationships, and achieve personal and professional growth.

This policy is framed in accordance with the guidelines and quality initiatives of the University Grants Commission (UGC), National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC), and affiliating university regulations.

Objectives of the Policy

The objectives of this policy are to:

- Facilitate smooth transition of students into the college environment.
- Provide continuous academic, emotional, and personal support.
- Strengthen teacher-student interaction and mentoring relationships.
- Monitor student progress, attendance, discipline, and well-being.
- Identify slow learners and advanced learners for appropriate support.
- Guide students in career planning, higher education, and skill development.
- Promote inclusiveness, confidence, leadership, and ethical values.
- Encourage participation in academic, co-curricular, extension, and community activities.
- Reduce stress, anxiety, and dropout rates among students.

Student Induction Programme

The institution organizes a Student Induction Programme at the beginning of each academic year for newly admitted students.

Purpose of the Induction Programme

The programme aims to:

- Familiarize students with the vision, mission, and values of the institution.
- Introduce academic regulations, examination system, and campus facilities.
- Create awareness regarding discipline, code of conduct, and student support services.
- Help students adapt to the college environment.
- Build confidence, communication skills, and interpersonal relationships.
- Encourage participation in academic and co-curricular activities.

Components of the Student Induction Programme

The induction programme includes:

- Orientation on institutional rules and regulations
- Introduction to departments, faculty members, and administrative offices
- Awareness about NAAC quality initiatives and student responsibilities
- Sessions on value education, ethics, and discipline
- Career guidance and skill development orientation
- Awareness on Anti-Ragging, Women Safety, ICC, and Grievance Redressal mechanisms
- Library and ICT facility orientation
- Introduction to NSS, clubs, committees, and extension activities
- Wellness, mental health, and counselling awareness sessions

Mentor–Mentee System

The institution has implemented a structured and student-centric Mentor–Mentee System to ensure continuous academic support, counselling, guidance, and holistic development of students.

At the beginning of the first year, each faculty member is assigned as a mentor to a group of approximately 20–30 students (mentees). The same mentor continues to guide the students throughout the programme to ensure consistency, trust, and effective monitoring.

The institution maintains an average Mentor–Mentee ratio of approximately 1:20–30 to ensure individual attention and personalized guidance.

Objectives of the Mentor–Mentee System

The Mentor–Mentee System aims to:

- Monitor academic performance, attendance, and student progression.
- Provide academic, emotional, and personal guidance.
- Identify strengths, weaknesses, and learning needs of students.
- Support students facing academic or personal difficulties.
- Guide students in goal setting, career planning, and higher education.
- Encourage active participation in co-curricular and extracurricular activities.
- Promote discipline, ethics, leadership, and social responsibility.
- Strengthen teacher–student relationships.

Roles & Responsibilities of Mentors

Faculty mentors shall:

- Conduct orientation meetings with mentees at the beginning of the academic year.
- Hold regular one-to-one and group mentoring sessions.
- Monitor attendance, academic performance, and student behavior.
- Identify slow learners and advanced learners and provide suitable support.
- Offer remedial guidance and enrichment activities.
- Provide counselling regarding academic, emotional, social, and personal issues.
- Guide students regarding career opportunities, higher education, internships, and skill development.
- Encourage participation in seminars, workshops, sports, cultural events, and extension activities.
- Maintain mentoring records, mentor diaries, and student progress reports.

- Interact with parents/guardians whenever necessary.
- Refer students to counselling, placement, wellness, or support cells as required.
- Promote professional ethics, discipline, and institutional values.

Responsibilities of Mentees

Students shall:

- Attend mentoring sessions regularly.
- Maintain regular communication with mentors.
- Seek guidance whenever required.
- Follow institutional discipline and academic regulations.
- Participate actively in academic and developmental activities.
- Maintain sincerity in studies, attendance, and personal conduct.

Mentor–Mentee Committee

The Mentor–Mentee System shall be implemented and monitored by a dedicated committee.

Monitoring & Review

The Mentor–Mentee System and Student Induction Programme shall be periodically reviewed by the IQAC and College Administration.

Review Mechanisms

- Collection of student feedback
- Submission of mentor reports
- Monitoring of attendance and academic progression
- Evaluation of counselling effectiveness
- Identification of areas for improvement
- Implementation of corrective and support measures

Expected Outcomes

The implementation of this policy is expected to result in:

- Improved academic performance and attendance
- Enhanced confidence, communication, and leadership skills
- Better emotional well-being and student satisfaction
- Increased participation in academic and co-curricular activities
- Early identification and support for slow learners
- Improved student progression and reduced dropout rates
- Stronger teacher–student relationships
- Better career awareness and goal orientation

Policy Review

This policy shall be reviewed periodically by the College Administration, IQAC, Mentor–Mentee Committee, and Student Support Cells in accordance with UGC, NAAC, and university guidelines.

Conclusion

St. Ann’s College for Women is committed to nurturing students through an effective Mentor–Mentee System and Student Induction Programme that promotes academic excellence, emotional well-being, leadership, discipline, and holistic development. The institution strives to create a caring, inclusive, and student-friendly learning environment that empowers young women to become confident, responsible, and socially committed individuals.
